

Eickhoff was a butcher in Flask Walk (not found in directories) who changed his (German) name to Alexander in World War I to avoid trouble.

(Inf. from his daughter, Louise Eickhoff, whose essay on wartime Camden is at LHC.)

Information from daughter, Dr. Louise Eickhoff, Dec. 1984:

"My father was buried under his post-war name of Alexander (his second Christian name). Buried here also is his first son, Frederick William Eickhoff, who died 8th December 1925 aged 4 years, 5 months".
