

Milward's date of Faulkner's death is clearly premature (1837), as his son was born 2 years later. Anyhow, in the 1854 Directory the Reverend seems to be alive and well and living in West End.

Did Catherine Adelaide marry and give birth when she was only 16, and so was 31 years younger than her husband?

